"A HELPING HAND"

Gladly Extended by a Brainerd Citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in Brainerd prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such a source is the best of evidence and will prove a "helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

Mrs. Moses Derocher, of 127, seventh street south, says: "Low down in the small part of my back there was a pain very distressing, by bells becoming much worse and causing me discomfort, to say the least. My husband bought me a box Doan's Kidney Pills at the nearest rug store and I started taking them. The medicines which I had failed to help me, but I can truthfully bear witness that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved my backache entirely, and corrected a disorder of the kidneys which accompanied the attack."

The judgment allowed Doyle by the court amounted to $454,961. Doyle's Colorado attorneys have not yet filed their claim.

Bricklayers and Stonemasons Strike.

Chicago, April 24.—Strikes by members of the Bricklayers and Stonemasons' union caused a suspension of building operations in many portions of the city and suburbs. Radical Element Raids the Mills Still in Operation and Drives Out the Employees, Forcing a Suspension of Business—Windows Smashed, Chemicals Spilled and Considerable Other Damage Done.

Paterson, N. J., April 24.—Striking dye helpers stormed the establishments that were still running and by force compelled the suspension of business in their trade. They engaged in a series of running fights with the police and plant managers and in one of the severest clashes exchanged a volley of pistol shots with them. Many persons on either side were severely injured during the rioting, but none dangerously so. It was believed for a time that it would be necessary to ask the aid of state troops to restore order to insure protection to life and property, but the police expressed confidence in their ability to handle the situation and no requisition for outside aid was made. Judge Dixon called the grand jury and charged them to indict persons guilty of rioting.

The conservative element among the strikers had in the meantime disavowed the violence of their fellows and urged a return to peaceful means to gain the end that was sought.

A written demand upon the employers for pay was formulated and committees opened negotiations for its consideration. Large numbers of the strikers are in sullen spirits and it is predicted that any attempt on the part of the employers to resume business without dealing with them would be desperately resisted.

Disorders Began Early.

When the strikers completed their campaign against the plants in operation the number of men out was found to be nearly 4,000.

The disorder began early in the day and was unexpected. A meeting of strikers was held at 8 o'clock at Rueger's Riverside hall and 2,000 men gathered at the place. The hall would not accommodate them all and the proceedings were slow because of the many nationalities represented. To simplify matters it was finally decided to have the men of each shop on strike appoint a committee of five to represent them. The meeting was orderly and declared for peace and the men were urged to keep away from the shops. While the meeting was in progress hundreds of strikers stood outside the hall angrily discussing their grievances. The radicals urged a raid upon the works still in operation, and when their suggestion was approved headed a rush for the plant of Johnson, Cowdin & Co. The men at work there were called out and the strikers moved on to the establishment of James Simpson & Co. That firm, fearing trouble, dismissed the men and closed its doors. Robert Gaedes' works were visited next and after that the Bambord mill, where the first serious disorder occurred, was surrounded. The property is walled in, but the strikers gained the yard before the gates were shut. Windows were smashed, chemicals spilled and Considerable Damage Done.

The men at work in the plant quickly quitted their places. While one mob was closing the Bambord mill another was surging into the plant of the American Silk Dyeing and Finishing company. Armed with dye sticks and stones, they charged through the plant, driving the men from their places. George Arnold, one of the members of the firm, was dropped insensible with a blow on the head from a dye stick. Almost simultaneously an attack was begun on the works of Emil Geering and it was in the fight for possession of it that the shooting occurred.

Two policemen were guarding the property and when the mob came rushing down on them they warned those in the van to keep away. Someone in the crowd discharged a revolver and the police quickly returned the fire. Half a dozen shots were fired and one striker who escaped unidentified was shot in the leg. The mob stoned the two policemen, and when one of the latter arrested one of the leaders closed in around him. The officers swung their clubs and beat their way out of the crowd. A striker engaged Mr. Geering, but was beaten off. One of the patrolmen finally secured a rifle and when he came out and faced the crowd with it there was a general scattering.

From Geering's the strikers hurried away toward the property of Knipfner & Maas, but that raid was checked by a squad of police. The latter formed across the street and, marching forward with night sticks drawn, forced the crowd back. Gerald Mistell, a young striker, hurled a rock at the police and was placed under arrest. The

Crowd Tried to Rescue Him

and to the number of several hundred followed the arresting officers to the prison, hooting at them as they trailed along. An attempt was made to organize a second movement against Mr. Geering's works, but only a few volunteered to take part in it. At noon the men at work for Geering went out and the place was closed down.

At some of the plants raided the strikers familiar with the machinery turned the steam on at full force and it was an effective weapon in driving the workmen out.

The strikers met at Riverside again at 4 o'clock in the afternoon to receive the reports of the several shop committees. Nearly every one of the latter reported that their particular shop would agree to the wage concessions demanded if the other shops would. The conservative leaders strongly advised the strikers to avoid violence and disavowed the attacks made on the mills during the morning.

GENERAL STRIKE ORDERED.

Tug Firemen Between Buffalo and Duluth Will Quit Work.

Chicago, April 24.—Every fireman and deckhand in the employ of the Great Lakes Towing company at all the ports on the lakes where that company operates its tugs were ordered to join a sympathetic strike to assist the Deckhands and Firemen's associations in Duluth in their demands for higher wages. Ever since the opening of navigation the tug trust has had trouble in agreeing with its employees in regard to the season's wages, and the amount of time the men should have off at different ports, but agreements had been reached at all but three ports and it was thought the difficulties would be settled in a few days. Now, however, the situation has become more serious than at any time and the end seems far off.

Manager James Sinclair of the tug trust fleet received the ultimatum of the deckhands and firemen and was notified that every man would quit work at midnight. With the swift current running in the river, the strike will practically amount to an embargo on navigation at this port, as none but the smaller class of steamers can get around without a tug in the turbulent channel.

Whether the Tugmen's association will join with the deckhands and firemen in their fight is not yet known. Their demands have been met by the tug trust at every port on the lakes except Cleveland and Lorain. The tie-up comes as the result of the demands of firemen at Duluth for an advance of $7.50 per month over last season's wages.

As this, it is claimed, is more than is being paid the men at other ports the officials of the tug trust have refused to grant the advance.

NO DEFINITE RESULT.

Some Progress Made, However, Towards Ending San Francisco Strike.

San Francisco, April 24.—No definite result was reached in the negotiations for ending the street railway strike in this city, but material progress was made toward an adjustment. A conference was held between a committee from the strikers and executive committee of the board of directors of the United Railroads at the company's office. The meeting was a most amicable one. The strikers submitted a draft of an agreement embodying their demands. The railway people took it under consideration. They explained that the matter would have to be submitted to the full board of directors before a definite answer could be returned. When they have considered the strikers' propositions they will notify them of their conclusions through Mayor Schmitz.

Walker, commander of the department of Northern Virginia, to succeed the late General Wade Hampton. New Orleans was selected as the place for the next reunion. The largest crowd of the reunion was present. The estimated number of veterans present was 12,000. Memorial services for the late General Wade Hampton were held in the morning.

INDIANA REPUBLICANS

MUCH ORATORY AND ENTHUSIASM AT OPENING OF THE STATE CONVENTION

BEVERIDGE AND FAIRBANKS

Former Delivers an Eloquent Address

Outlining the Principles Upon Which the Party Will Enter the Next Campaign—Implores the Convention to Be Very Careful of What It Says and Does.

Indianapolis, April 24.—Much oratory and enthusiasm marked the opening of the Republican state convention in Tomlinson hall. Senator Albert J. Beveridge delivered an eloquent address in which he outlined the principles upon which the Republicans of Indiana will enter upon the next campaign, and, although the committee on resolutions has not yet reported, it is understood that the planks in the platform will not vary widely from the general statements made by Senator Beveridge.

It is understood that the planks in the platform will not vary widely from the general statements made by Senator Beveridge. The speaker laid particular stress upon the fact that this was the opening convention of the twentieth century and implied that it behooved the Republicans of Indiana to look well to what they said and did, as they were in a manner to blaze the way for the conventions which are to follow in other states, upon which the policies of the Republican party for the next national campaign will largely depend.

The senator declined to say that he was the mouthpiece of the administration of President Roosevelt, but would not deny that what he had to say regarding national issues had been in a large measure approved at Washington.

Beveridge Permanent Chairman.

The convention was called to order by J. R. Goodrich, chairman of the state committee. He immediately called upon John B. Cockran, the chairman of the committee on rules and permanent organization, for the report of the committee. It provided that there should be no nominating speeches and that the names of candidates should be presented when the roll of counties is called. It recommended that Senator Beveridge be made the permanent chairman of the convention. The report was adopted unanimously and Congressmen Hemingway and Watson were appointed members of a committee to summon Senator Beveridge.

The senator was greeted with cheers when he appeared on the platform and commenced the delivery of his address. There were frequent outbursts of applause throughout the delivery of the speech, and from start to finish the speaker received the deepest attention of his hearers.

There was a great outburst of cheers as the speaker concluded, and then came loud calls of "Fairbanks."

Cheer Senator Hanna's Name.

As Senator Fairbanks left his seat and stepped to the speaker's table he was greeted with loud and long continued cheers.

The committee on credentials reported that there were contests in the counties of Orange, Clark, and the Seventh ward of the city of Indianapolis. The committee reported in favor of the regular delegates in all the contests, and the report was unanimously adopted.

Following the adoption of the report of the committee on credentials, addresses were made by Congressmen James E. Watson and James A. Hemingway and by Frederick Landis of Wabash, who brought forth cheers by his assertion that he believed "in the party of Mark Hanna, who had never lost a fight, and never would lose one." The outburst of applause that met the name of Senator Hanna was fully as generous as any that had been given during the day. At the conclusion of Mr. Landis' address the convention adjourned until 9 o'clock a. m.

Right the Wrong.

The action of the board of education last night in not re-electing Prof. Hanft as principal of the High School, will meet with the condemnation of practically every resident of the city. Prof. Hanft is conceded by everyone, even those members of the board who voted against him, to be the best high school principal who has ever held the position. His zeal to advance the high school of this city, and educational interests generally, is well known, and his work has resulted in making the local high school one of the best in the state. He has the respect and confidence of not only the people generally, but of all the scholars, not only of the high school, but in all the schools of the city, hence his rejection by the board for purely personal reasons only, growing out of the recent controversy, amounts almost to a crime against the educational interests of the community, and should not be tolerated. The members of the board should be forcibly reminded that they occupy their position to advance the interests of the schools and do the will of their constituents, and not to "get even". Let a vigorous protest be made at once that the attempted wrong made be speedily righted.

THE BOARD ELECTS TEACHERS FOR YEAR

Prof. Hanft Was Not Re-elected Principal of the High School by the Board.

SUPT. HARTLEY IS RE-ELECTED

Application of Miss Somers is Rejected and Miss Burke is Not Re-engaged.

A special meeting of the board of education was held last night in the Washington building, the same having been called to elect teachers for the ensuing year. All members were present at the meeting except Dr. Groves.

Some surprises were sprung at the meeting but perhaps the most serious one was the turning down of Prof. Frank W. Hanft as principal of the high school. The teachers committee, which recommended the teachers to the board, stated in their report that they would not make a recommendation for this position but would leave the matter to the discretion of the board. When the name of Prof. Hanft was placed in nomination his nomination was rejected by a vote of 6 to 3. It is a severe body blow to the many friends of the professor and it is thought that there must have been some ulterior motive on the part of the members who voted against him, for there is no question as to his ability and worthiness for the position.

Miss Lizzie Somers also sent in an application which was also rejected, by the same vote.

The board also turned down the name of Miss Mary Burke, who taught in the Washington building. No reason was assigned for this.

On motion Messrs. Keene, Johnson and Preston were named as tellers, and the board proceeded at once to the election of the teachers.

The first position to be filled was that of superintendent. There was but one candidate, the present superintendent, Prof. T. B. Hartley, and he was the unanimous choice of the board. His salary was fixed at $1600 a year, a raise of $100 a year. This is gratifying to all interested in education in this city, for it is believed that there is no better fitted man for the position in northern Minnesota.

The board then proceeded to ballot on the other teachers with the following results:

A STORM IN MID-OCEAN.

Thursday, January 2, 1902.—Well, we are "in it" for a certainty. We are 1600 miles from land—just mid-ocean. The sea is lashed to a white foam that looks like soap-suds in a wash tub. The captain says by noon it will be a hurricane. The wind is astern and pushes us headlong over the billows. "We" are feeling fine. The quiet sailing has put us all in a receptive mood to take whatever comes. In fact, we are anxiously looking forward to a "grand display" of water-works before the day is over. We never felt better on land than we do now and no fear of the approaching danger comes to us. We walk, run, slide and crawl along the deck as best we can, each on the lookout for a huge billow as it sweeps majestically by. At 1 o'clock the wind blows eighty miles an hour. Rain and hail beat on the upper deck and the waves are long and high. The horizon is cut by the huge mountains, the rain lends an added mystery to the distance where the billows meet and melt into the dark grey sky and yet we plough on into the dark, heavy and mysterious distance. At times the aft of the ship rises far above the sea, and the bow plows into the mountain just ahead, which completely covers the ship almost. Then she rolls and pitches until it is difficult to say which goes the higher, the ship or our enthusiasm. During my first voyage I was sure that the waves struck against the moon for there was only a quarter of it left. But with added experience I am prepared to say that the waves today were higher for about one hour than I have ever seen them. One must measure them, of course, from the height of their enthusiasm and imagination, I did not get off to measure them.

About 6:00 p. m., as we went down to dinner the storm began to abate. The rakes were on the table but even they slid off at our end, precipitating Mrs. Young's soup into her lap. The captain got off a Dutch joke but she concluded that in comparison she would rather be the joke than the joker. For instance, here is one of their capital-prize jokes, when being told the crew of the ship laughed so heartily that the ship stopped rolling: "A Dutch student out late, got full, fell asleep on the curb and lay on a grate over a coal hole. Robert N. Tynan returned from Staples today where he went to accept a position as tonnage clerk under Master Mechanic Lyddon. He has decided to remain in Brainerd and will go on duty again in the office of the division store room.

Some boys have been disturbing the congregation at the M. E. church several nights during the series of meetings. These boys are known and if it occurs again arrests will positively be made. The past will be overlooked if it is entirely stopped, if not, take the consequences.

George West reports that while he was at Milaca his brother-in-law showed him a monstrosity in the way of a two-headed calf which he bought from a farmer. The calf died shortly after birth but it has been mounted and it is an interesting specimen.

Fred L. Hoffman, son of Fred Hoffman, of this city, who has been teller in the First National bank at Little Falls for the past three years, has handed in his resignation to take effect May 1st. Mr. Hoffman he sobered up, he felt the iron bars underneath his head and exclaimed: "What! In jail again?" "We" have named this a "state-damned good-joke."

Friday, January 3.—"There's a calm after every storm." The sun rose out of the quiet sea this morning and no trace of yesterday's "gala" day is evident except a few fences blown down here and there and yonder. Our party goes up on the hurricane deck and with the captain and others were photographed in Dutch. Shall I tell you how to do it? Just as the photographer is ready to "snap" you look far away and say, "Yah!" Practice before the mirror so you can get the foreign expression. If possible to finish some of today's efforts they will accompany this letter. The afternoon was spent improvising a dark-room for "developing," as the Dutch say, in speaking of negatives. After dinner a few gathered in the salon and spent an hour refusing to sing, but some were weak enough to consent.

Saturday, January 4—Another "perfectly lovely" day. The sea is smooth but has long swells that roll the boat just enough to make it fine sailing. We all sit on deck, some reading and some writing. It has leaked out that I am to publish another book when we land, and several have asked to read the MS. As long as the sea is calm, I shall not be the first to cause a ripple, so I refused.

Sunday, January 5—it gives me great pleasure to repeat, another beautiful day with a perfect sea. Everybody was on deck as soon as breakfast was over. The sun shone brightly and banks of golden lined clouds reflect their Republican rays in the water. At 11 o'clock we three hied ourselves to the library were we read the lesson and then went for a long promenade up the avenue. We came across a country school of porpoises. They leaped out of the water four feet into the air. Mrs. Young said they were about two feet long. The captain said: "They are as large as you are". It was about time for recess and I guess those chaps were out playing. Perhaps the "school" was out for the day—at any rate they were having a high time—just out for an "airing".

THE APPRENTICES WALKED OUT TODAY

Forty-one Out of Forty-four Follow
the Machinists.

Strike Has Not Become General as Yet---Everything Quiet.

This morning at 7 o'clock several of those interested in the machinists' strike gathered about the entrances of the Northern Pacific shops to ascertain how many, if any of the machinists, who went out last Saturday morning, would go back to work again today.

It will be remembered in the letter from General Manager Cooper, that the men were given an opportunity to go to work this morning at 7 o'clock, but in case they did not, Master Mechanic Bean was instructed to give them their time, and they would be considered as permanently severed in connection with the employ of the company. Not a single man went to work, and now the situation seems the more serious.

To add to the seriousness of the situation, the apprentices in the shops, numbering about 41, walked out this morning about 8 o'clock, so that this part of the shop has but few men at work now, the number including the handy men, a few machinists and apprentices who stayed, together with the foreman.

The apprentices are all young men who have worked from two to three years at the business, but many of them are capable of taking machines anywhere, others, however, would not be able to go to work on a machine, not having had the experience.

The moulder in the Northern Pacific foundry have not gone out yet, and there is no probability that they

CITIZENS' MEETING

Called For This Evening to Consider
the Strike Situation at
N. P. Shops.

The present unfortunate disagreement between the officers of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company and employees of the company at the shops in this city, is a condition that is greatly regretted by all our citizens. With the hope of, if possible, bringing about a better understanding between the company and its employees, leading to a satisfactory settlement of their differences and a termination of the strike inaugurated a few days ago, I have conferred with many of our leading citizens who are deeply interested in our city and its people, and in response to a general desire on their part, have decided to call a meeting of citizens, and especially the business men of the city, to be held in the council chambers this (Thursday,) evening, at 8 o'clock, to consider the situation and take such action as may be deemed advisable. This is a matter of the utmost importance to every business man in the city, and I earnestly hope that there will be a large attendance, and that something may be accomplished before it is too late.

A. J. HALSTED, Mayor.

The big suit sale continues every day the balance of April. Mens and boys suits for less than half price at Moberg's store.

ON THE DIAMOND.

Tomorrow there will be a game of ball between the machinists and the apprentices at the end of Front street. The boys can pick out some good teams and a good game is expected.

A large number of tickets have been sold for the excursion to Little Falls Sunday. The train will leave here shortly after 1 o'clock, returning after the game. The members of the Brainerd team will meet to-night at 7 o'clock for practice on the grounds at the end of Front street.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE WHITE SLAVE."

The Toledo Blade has the following criticism of "The White Slave," which will be given in this city at the opera house, Saturday night.

"The play is full of that 'human' quality which Bartley Campbell always puts into his plays, and that is the reason of its long popularity. To those who saw it last night for the first time the genuine of the author was apparent. Unlike the flippant modern handling of a common-place plot there is a gathering together of the warp and woof of tragedy and comedy into a most delightful fabric which, through all its years of wear, shows brilliant coloring".

The sale of seats opens tomorrow morning at H. P. Dunn & Co.'s drug store.

After the Lyceum.

Bids have been opened for the leasing of the Lyceum theater in Duluth for a term of years. Between ten and fifteen proposals are now in the hands of the agents of the building. Among those who have made bids are L. N. Scott of the Metropolitan theater in Minneapolis and Oscar Vanderbilt, city ticket agent of the Northern Pacific at St. Paul. The theater is said to be one of the best paying propositions in the state.

There is a possibility that the Empire theater, which was burned last summer, will be rebuilt this season and opened as a popular-priced house. The present owners of the site admit they are considering the matter and that an architect is working on the plans.

We have some aristocratic colored shirts, but our prices are only 50c, 75c and $1. Mark's Shoe and Clothing House, Sixth street south, opposite postoffice.

The famous train of the world, the Pioneer Limited, leaves the Twin cities every evening in the year reaching Chicago the following morning at 9:30. Two Young Men Have Very

LED A YOUNG GIRL ASTRAY.

The Girl Tells a Tale of How She was Lured to a House of Bad Repute.

It seems that the county and city officials have combined forces to eradicate from the city an element that is almost intolable and their actions of the past twenty-four hours will be greatly commended by the people of the city.

It will be remembered that the DISPATCH had an article yesterday in which it narrated the arrest of David Bourgard, William Parker, and three women from the tenderloin district and their subsequent appearance before Judge Blewitt in the afternoon. They were each fined $20 apiece, and the three women paid their fines which swelled the city exchequer to the tune of $60. The two men went to jail and intended serving time, but last night they signified their intentions of paying the fines if they could do so and again gain their liberty. This they did, but they had no more than done this and stepped from the city jail when they were confronted by another charge and locked up, this time on a more serious one, and the manner in which they were picked up must have made them feel for a minute that they were victims of a real thing bunco game.

They paid their fines to Chief Nelson and while this was being done Sheriff Erickson armed with a warrant hovered near. They were taken into custody and locked up in the county jail.

The charge against these men is made by Annie Berglund, a young girl underage. They are charged with unlawfully enticing a female under age, of previous chaste character, to a house of ill-fame for the purpose of prostitution, and the story the young girl tells is a deplorable one to say the least.

She stated to the officers that her home was in Minneapolis. She has been visiting with relatives at Blackduck and Bemidji and while in Bemidji met one of the two men above mentioned. She came down from the north a day or two ago and on the same train was the young man she was acquainted with. After she reached the city she made preparations to go to Little Falls to visit an aunt, but again this monster fiend met her and with the assistance of friends got her down to one of the houses of ill-fame where she was asked to join the circle in drunken revelry, always ending with debauch and shame. Here she whiled away the hours until Officers Preston and Hurley arrested the whole gang and lodged them in the city jail. The girl is also now in the custody of the officers and she will be kept by the state to give her evidence in the prosecution of the guilty parties.

This morning at 10 o'clock the men were taken before Judge Blewitt and the case was continued to Monday, April 28. The young girl was also retained under $100 bond, so that she may appear against the men. It is a penitentiary offence and the boys are sort of up against it.

THE APPRENTICES WALKED OUT TODAY

Forty-one Out of Forty-four Follow
the Machinists.

Strike Has Not Become General as Yet---Everything Quiet.

This morning at 7 o'clock several of those interested in the machinists' strike gathered about the entrances of the Northern Pacific shops to ascertain how many, if any of the machinists, who went out last Saturday morning, would go back to work again today.

It will be remembered in the letter from General Manager Cooper, that the men were given an opportunity to go to work this morning at 7 o'clock, but in case they did not, Master Mechanic Bean was instructed to give them their time, and they would be considered as permanently severed in connection with the employ of the company. Not a single man went to work, and now the situation seems the more serious.

To add to the seriousness of the situation, the apprentices in the shops, numbering about 41, walked out this morning about 8 o'clock, so that this part of the shop has but few men at work now, the number including the handy men, a few machinists and apprentices who stayed, together with the foreman.

The apprentices are all young men who have worked from two to three years at the business, but many of them are capable of taking machines anywhere, others, however, would not be able to go to work on a machine, not having had the experience.

The moulder in the Northern Pacific foundry have not gone out yet, and there is no probability that they

CITIZENS' MEETING

Called For This Evening to Consider
the Strike Situation at
N. P. Shops.

The present unfortunate disagreement between the officers of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company and employees of the company at the shops in this city, is a condition that is greatly regretted by all our citizens. With the hope of, if possible, bringing about a better understanding between the company and its employes, leading to a satisfactory settlement of their differences and a termination of the strike inaugurated a few days ago, I have conferred with many of our leading citizens who are deeply interested in our city and its people, and in response to a general desire on their part, have decided to call a meeting of citizens, and especially the business men of the city, to be held in the council chambers this (Thursday,) evening, at 8 o'clock, to consider the situation and take such action as may be deemed advisable. This is a matter of the utmost importance to every business man in the city, and I earnestly hope that there will be a large attendance, and that something may be accomplished before it is too late.

CANCER CURED.

I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know what the Herbaqueen Specific Remedies have done for me. They have saved the life of my wife. She was afflicted with cancer through the whole system and was given up by doctors and friends as beyond any cure. She was suffering for a long time and got steadily worse, till at last she could hardly bear her surroundings. Then I heard of these wonderful cures and decided we would try them, and after treatment with them for some time she began to get better and is now all right and able to do her housework. I have full confidence in these treatments and recommend them to anyone suffering with cancer or tumor, as curing the same without operation.

WATER CURE CHARGES

TWO EX-SOLDIERS SEND A SEN-SATIONAL STATEMENT TO SENATOR LODGE.

CITE SEVERAL INSTANCES
Allege That Company D, Twenty-sixth Volunteers, of Which They Were Members, Gave Many Natives the Water Cure—Also Captured a Priest
and Used the Treatment on Him,
With Fatal Results.

Lynn men, April 24.—Two Lynn
men, William A. Belle and Albert W.
Bertrand, formerly privates in Company D, Twenty-sixth regiment, U. S.
V., have sent to Senator Lodge a statement of instances of the application of the "water cure" in the Philippines
that came under their observation.
Bertrand was clerk of Company D and regimental clerk at headquarters while the regiment was stationed at Panay.
La Belle says that while at Anilao
three natives were taken by Company D men into a Catholic church and given the water cure. One of the natives refused to tell where insurgent guns were secreted, and after he had been blinded and one of the soldiers fired a gun near the man's head. The instant the gun was fired another member of the squad hit the native with a stone,
and he was told he had been shot.
The native then told the United States soldiers where they could find the guns. La Belle gives the names of the officers and privates who participated in administering the punishment.

La Belle further says that in the summer of 1900 while the United States forces were about three miles from Estancia, Company D captured three natives and gave them the water cure. After the men had been filled with water, blood came from their eyes and ears.

Bertrand has furnished Senator Lodge with the particulars of the alleged disappearance and killing of Father Augustine, a Catholic priest, at Bolo. He says it was reported that Father Augustine knew where insurgent gold was buried. Men from Company D captured him in December, 1900, and dressed him in a uniform of the United States artillery. He was then taken to Banato and

Kept in a Well.

He refused to tell where the gold was buried and on the night of Dec. 9 he was taken to a house formerly occupied by the president of the village.
Upon his arrival there, Bertrand says,
the water cure was given him by the "water cure squad." The men proceeded to get nearly all of the water out of him, but he did not revive. The men became frightened and a surgeon was sent for. His services proved unsuccessful and Bertrand says that the priest died.

Some of the men were sworn to secrecy and the body was buried in a plot of land used by the troops as a baseball ground.

Bertrand says that a non-commissioned officer was seen with the priest's watch and chain and when a commissioned officer learned this they were turned over to him. Bertrand gives the names of the men taking part and also refers to several officers.

According to La Belle, when Company D was out on a hike while stationed at Dungas in July, 1900, the men were ordered to burn everything and see if no grown person escaped. This, La Belle says, the men proceeded to do. La Belle and Bertrand say that while at Dungas the soldiers came to a hut where a native woman had just given birth to a child. The husband was made a prisoner and the woman and child were dragged from the house and left on the ground.
The native shack was then burned,
but La Belle and Bertrand do not know what became of the woman and child.

CONTINUES HIS SPEECH.

Senator Rawlins of Utah Opposes the Philippine Government Bill.

Washington, April 24.—Mr. Rawlins of Utah continued his speech in the senate opposing the Philippine temporary government bill. He devoted the greater part of his speech to a discussion of the testimony presented to the administration of the "water cure" to natives and to other forms of torture inflicted on the Fil-ippines. He had not concluded his remarks when the senate adjourned.

During the early part of the session
the bill providing for a union railroad station in Washington was under consideration but no action was taken.

SLOW PROGRESS MADE.

House Discusses Senate Amendments
to Oleomargarine Bill.

Washington, April 24.—The house began consideration of the senate amendments to the oleomargarine bill during the day. A special rule for this purpose was adopted by a vote of 152 to 79. By the ruling of the chair the question of further amendment of the senate proposition was confined within very narrow limits.
Slow progress was made. The opponents of the measure, who sought to modify the senate amendments in various particulars, were outvoted on every proposition submitted.

Burglars Secure Only Ten Dollars.

Bemidji, Minn., April 24.—F. D. Coleman & Co.'s store was broken into and burglarized during the night. Ten dollars was taken from the till. Revolvers and other articles are missing. The safe contained $700, but was not

FAR-REACHING DECISION.

Section of Nebraska General Revenue
Law Declared Unconstitutional.

Lincoln, Neb., April 24.—The supreme court of Nebraska has overruled the findings of Referee Ryan in the case of the Real Estate Exchange of Omaha against the Omaha city council, in which the Real Estate Exchange sued for a writ of mandamus to compel the council to reconvene as a board of equalization and hear complaints against the alleged low assessment of the property of the public service corporations of the city of Omaha.

The decision is perhaps the most important of the kind ever given, and will be as far-reaching in its effect as the famous school teachers' case of Chicago. The decision, in reversing the recommendation of the referee, finds for the Real Estate Exchange on every point of law and decides that the writ shall issue. The mandamus demands that the franchised corporations shall be assessed on the same basis
as private property.

That section of the general revenue law under which corporations have heretofore deducted the amount of their bonded indebtedness from the value of their property for taxation purposes is declared unconstitutional.
On the manner of assessing franchises
and corporation property the decision is distinct and to the effect that corporations must pay taxes in proportion to the value of the entire property, the same as other property.

The opinion affects the entire state and is not appealable. That part of the finding of Referee Ryan declaring the city council to be "capricious and arbitrary" in refusing to hear the complaints and constructing the costs against that body is sustained.

FATAL CUTTING AFFRAY.

Four Men Killed and Eleven Wounded
at Chihuahua, Mex.

El Paso, Tex., April 24.—A dispatch
from Chihuahua, Mex., says that a fatal cutting affray took place on what is known as the "Little Plaza" opposite the cathedral, in which four men were killed and eleven were more or less seriously injured. The men were gathered about a tequila resort and the difficulty arose over a trivial matter.

The two disputing parties drew their knives and began to slash each other,
and instantly the different partisans took up the fight. Before the police could interfere three men lay dead on the ground, one was fatally injured and died later, and eleven were badly cut up, three of whom may die. The alarm was given, and the chief of police soon arrived with reinforcements.
Every man on the plaza, which is frequented only by the peons, was arrested and there were 27 prisoners besides the slightly injured partisans.

HAVANA EDITOR SHOT.

Result of a Controversy Over Management of Ball Games.

Havana, April 24.—Senor Miranda,
a reporter on La Lucha, shot Senor Govin, the editor of El Mundo, wounding him in the leg.

Senor Muno had been attacking the management of the Spanish ball games, claiming they were carried on for the sole purpose of placing bets and gambling.
La Lucha supported the management of the games.
Senores Miranda and Govin met in a cafe, and in a controversy over the management of the games, Senor Govin struck Senor Miranda with his cane, whereupon Senor Miranda used his revolver with the above result.
No arrests have yet been made.

WATER CURE CHARGES

TWO EX-SOLDIERS SEND A SENATIONAL STATEMENT TO SENATOR LODGE.

CITE SEVERAL INSTANCES

Allege That Company D, Twenty-sixth Volunteers, of Which They Were Members, Gave Many Natives the Water Cure—Also Captured a Priest and Used the Treatment on Him, With Fatal Results.

Lynn, Mass., April 24.—Two Lynn men, William a Belle and Albert W. Bertrand, formerly privates in Company D, Twenty-sixth regiment, U. S. V., have sent to Senator Lodge a statement of instances of the application of the "water cure" in the Philippines that came under their observation. Bertrand was clerk of Company D and regimental clerk at headquarters while the regiment was stationed at Panay. La Belle says that while at Anilao three natives were taken by Company D men into a Catholic church and given the water cure. One of the natives refused to tell where insurgent guns were secreted, and after he had been given the water cure he was blindfolded and one of the soldiers fired a gun near the man's head. The instant the gun was fired another member of the squad hit the native with a stone, and he was told he had been shot. The native then told the United States soldiers where they could find the guns. La Belle gives the names of the officers and privates who participated in administering the punishment.

La Belle further says that in the summer of 1900 while the United States forces were about three miles from Estancia, Company D captured three natives and gave them the water cure. After the men had been filled with water, blood came from their eyes and ears. Bertrand has furnished Senator Lodge with the particulars of the alleged disappearance and killing of Father Augustine, a Catholic priest, at Bolo. He says it was reported that Father Augustine knew where insurgent gold was buried. Men from Company D captured him in December, 1900, and dressed him in a uniform of the United States artillery. He was then taken to Banato and

Kept in a Well.

He refused to tell where the gold was buried and on the night of Dec. 9 he was taken to a house formerly occupied by the president of the village. Upon his arrival there, Bertrand says, the water cure was given him by the "water cure squad." The men proceeded to get nearly all of the water out of him, but he did not revive. The men became frightened and a surgeon was sent for. His services proved unsuccessful and Bertrand says that the priest died.

Some of the men were sworn to secrecy and the body was buried in a plot of land used by the troops as a baseball ground.

Bertrand says that a non-commissioned officer was seen with the priest's watch and chain and when a commissioned officer learned this they were turned over to him. Bertrand gives the names of the men taking part and also refers to several officers.

According to La Belle, when Company D was out on a hike while stationed at Dungas in July, 1900, the men were ordered to burn everything and see that no grown person escaped. This, La Belle says, the men proceeded to do. La Belle and Bertrand say that while at Dungas the soldiers came to a hut where a native woman had just given birth to a child. The husband was made a prisoner and the woman and child were dragged from the house and left on the ground. The native shack was then burned, but La Belle and Bertrand do not know what became of the woman and child.

Washington, April 24.—Mr. Rawlins of Utah continued his speech in the senate opposing the Philippine temporary government bill. He had not concluded his remarks when the senate adjourned.

During the early part of the session the bill providing for a union railroad station in Washington was under consideration but no action was taken.
